ORGANIC TECHHOUSE

percussion essentials

Here is our second installment of loops and one shots called „Organic Techhouse - Percussion Essentials“.

A huge essential selection of 446 carefully tuned one shot drum samples, made from 28 different percussion and drum instruments, 450 key and tempo labeled loops featuring 30 different instruments.

Sebastian is addicted to collect different percussion instruments (and instruments at all). He has started experimenting with sampling and recording in 2001. He got also a small selection of microphones, preamps, outboard compressors and saturation tools. Furthermore he likes to process his samples in the box too. Now after just 20 years of recording, deciding, processing and much more he made a perfectly organized selection from all his stuff. We are pretty sure you will find some really rare stuff inside this library. There are some instruments which are not very common today and rarely used in modern music.

From that library he build up packs which fits together instantly.

His second installment features Techhouse loops and one shots which are really organic and natural sounding. All drums are tuned and carefully selected to perfectly fits to the other drums in the same „Construction Kit“. All one shots are key labeled and the loops also got the tempo written to their name. In this pack all loops are made in 128 BPM and made in a similar style so you could mix different loops from different „Construction Kits“ together to get nice transitions and rhythmic variations. The loops are not perfectly quantized to make them feel more human and groovy.

There is one folder with all the one shots sorted by instrument type. We find it useful to sort the loops in two ways:

1. Construction Kits

12 folders named after the notes which are used in that kit. You got every note, C-B, for your toolset to give you a maximum of flexibility.

This Loops are all tuned to the same root note and meant to be used together in the first and simple way. You can use and mix loops from other construction kits too. But don't forget the root note and keyscale of your song.

2. Instrument Folder

Here we have splitted the loops into instrumnt folders too make it easier too decide and find the one you are looking for.

This could be the better method if you are looking for one shot ideas or want to spice up your track with a special instrument but just don't know which note you want to put in.
